Notice of Available Grant Funding

Grant funds are available from the Federal State Access and Visitation Program pursuant to P.L. 104-193 for fiscal year 2004. The purpose of this grant program is to increase, enhance, expand or initiate grant projects that provide services and assistance to children and families in need of supervised exchange or visitation. It is the intention of this grant program to provide as wide a range of coverage as possible to the citizens of the state.

Economic Impact: There would be no economic impact to the Kansas Behavioral Sciences Regulatory Board. There would be no economic impact to other governmental agencies. For the licensee there is a 33 percent reduction in the required number of CEUs. This could have a positive fiscal impact to the licensee of a 33 percent reduction in the overall cost of continuing education. There could be a negative impact to the continuing education providers due to the reduction in the number of continuing education hours required.

K.A.R. 102-5-12 contains the unprofessional conduct code for marriage and family therapists. This is a major revision of the unprofessional conduct for marriage and family therapy; it expands, specifies and clarifies the current regulation. The new sections are related to impaired objectivity, ignoring client welfare, client confidentiality, assessment procedures and research with human subjects.

Economic Impact: There is no impact to the Behavioral Sciences Regulatory Board, licensees, the public or any other governmental agency.

K.A.R. 102-5-16 is a new regulation that clearly states the requirements for the maintenance of client records of a marriage and family therapist. This is an expansion and clarification of the existing section of the current unprofessional conduct regulation.

Economic Impact: There is no impact to the Behavioral Sciences Regulatory Board, licensees, the public or any other governmental agency.

K.A.R. 102-6-9 contains the renewal requirements for alcohol or other drug abuse counselors. The change is a reduction in the required number of continuing education hours for renewal.

Economic Impact: There would be no economic impact to the Kansas Behavioral Sciences Regulatory Board. There would be no economic impact to other governmental agencies. For the registrant there is a 50 percent reduction in the required number of CEUs. This could have a positive fiscal impact to the registrant of a 50 percent reduction in the overall cost of continuing education. The Kansas Department of Health and Environment will conduct public meetings to solicit concepts, issues and concerns KDHE should evaluate during the formulation of regulations KDHE is proposing to develop and adopt addressing municipal, commercial and industrial wastewater lagoon liner requirements. The public meetings will be at the following dates, times and locations:

| Date | Time | Location |
|----------|--------------|--|
| April 16 | 7 to 10 p.m. | Kansas History Center Museum Education Classroom 6425 S.W. 6th Ave., Topeka |

Background

In accordance with the Secretary of Health and Environment's goal to develop and promulgate groundwaterprotection practices for sensitive groundwater areas in the state and specifically to address the Equus Beds Aquifer, KDHE is proposing to develop and promulgate regulations addressing municipal, commercial and industrial wastewater lagoon liner requirements. These regulations are intended to enhance the protection of groundwater resources in the state by addressing the design, construction and operation of wastewater lagoons that serve municipal, commercial and industrial facilities; convert current policies regarding industrial wastewater pond liners into regulations that will make them an enforceable part of the Minimum Standards of Design for Water Pollution Control Facilities-1978; update provisions of the Minimum Standards of Design for Water Pollution Control Facilities to reflect current technology and recent information regarding the effectiveness of earthen lagoons for the containment and treatment of wastewater; and provide uniformity in regard to KDHE's approach to the design, construction and use of wastewater lagoon systems serving municipal, commercial and industrial fa-

KDHE is specifically seeking input regarding concepts, issues and concerns that the public believes should be reflected and incorporated into the proposed regulations. To that end, KDHE has prepared materials highlighting concepts and issues currently being evaluated by KDHE in an effort to help generate ideas and input from the public to be shared with KDHE. The purpose of the public meetings is to solicit that input, which will assist in generating the framework and format for the proposed regulations. KDHE will provide brief presentations at the start of the public meeting explaining the state regulation adoption process followed by a summary of regulation concepts and issues under evaluation at this time.

Upon completion of the public meetings, KDHE will summarize and evaluate the comments received and develop draft regulations. The draft regulations will then be directed through the formal regulation adoption process, which will include a public notice in the Kansas Register and one or more public hearings to receive input regarding the proposed regulations.

Copies of the public meeting Corel Presentation material summarizing regulation concepts and issues can be obtained by contacting Dorothy Geisler, Bureau of Water, Kansas Department of Health and Environment, 1000 S.W. Jackson, Suite 420, Topeka, 66612-1367, (785) 296-5545, e-mail dgeisler@kdhe.state.ks.us, or by accessing the KDHE Bureau of Water's Web site at http://www.kdhe.state.ks.us/water/index.html, "Proposed Lagoon Liner Regs."

Persons wishing to provide concepts, issues or concerns for consideration by KDHE may direct their comments to the attention of Dorothy Geisler at the e-mail or office address given above or by providing comments at the public meetings. Due to the detailed nature of the subject matter and expected significant interest in the development of the proposed regulations, it is recommended that written comments accompany any oral presentation at the public meetings. Submission of written comments at the public meetings will ensure that if time has to be limited for oral presentations because of the number of people desiring to provide input, that concepts, issues, comments and concerns will be directed to agency staff, in full detail, and also will provide a mechanism by which agency staff can contact the individual in the event agency staff seek additional information or clarification. KDHE will continue to receive written comments through the close of business April 28.

Any individual with a disability may request accommodation in order to participate in the public meetings. Requests for accommodation should be made at least five working days in advance of the meeting by contacting

Dorothy Geisler.
