The 60-day public petition period will directly follow the EPA's 45-day review period. Interested parties may contact KDHE to determine if the EPA's 45-day review period has been waived.

Any such petition shall be based only on objections to the permit that were raised with reasonable specificity during the public comment period provided for in this notice, unless the petitioner demonstrates that it was impracticable to raise such objections within such period, or unless the grounds for such objection arose after such period. Contact Harriet Jones, U.S. EPA, Region VII, Air Permitting and Compliance Branch, 901 N. 5th St., Kansas City, KS 66101, (913) 551-7097, to determine when the 45-day EPA review period ends and the 60-day petition period commences.

A summary of the proposed regulations, their environmental benefit and the estimated economic impact follows:

K.A.R. 28-16-56c and 56d. Sewage permit fees; definitions and schedules. The proposed amendments alphabetize the currently defined terms; replace animal unit and confined feeding facility definitions with statutory definitions; modify the terms “industrial wastewater treatment facility,” and “storm water discharge”; and define the new term, “private truck-washing facility for animal wastes.” The amendments also revise the permit fee schedule by adding specific types of facilities and associated fees defined by statute. Within the context of the regulatory impact statement the proposed amendments will not have a direct impact on public health or the environment as they are primarily administrative in nature. The proposed amendments do not subject the affected parties, the general public or any unit of government to additional direct costs.

K.A.R. 28-18-1 and 28-18a-1. Definitions. The proposed amendments update references to other existing regulations and define new terms that have been introduced as part of the proposed regulations and amendments. The revisions include definitions for the following terms: “closure plan,” “equus beds,” “groundwater,” “impermeable synthetic membrane liner,” “public livestock market,” “sensitive groundwater areas” and “whole pond seepage test.” Within the context of the regulatory impact statement the proposed amendments will not have a direct impact on public health or the environment as they are primarily administrative in nature. The proposed amendments do not subject the affected parties, the general public or any unit of government to additional direct costs.

K.A.R. 28-18-2 and 28-18a-2. Registration and application requirements. The proposed amendments will clarify which public livestock markets are required to apply for a permit. The proposed amendments are a result of recent statutory changes (L. 2003, ch.18, sec. 2). Within the context of the regulatory impact statement the proposed amendments will not have a direct impact on public health or the environment as they are primarily administrative in nature. The proposed amendments do not subject the affected parties, the general public or any unit of government to additional direct costs.

K.A.R. 28-18-4 and 28-18a-4. Filing of applications and payment of fees. The proposed amendments reflect proposed modifications to other regulations addressing closure of waste lagoons located over the Equus Beds for facilities with 1,000 or more animal units. Additionally, the contents of permit applications for confined feeding facilities have been modified to address current program requirements. Within the context of the regulatory impact statement the proposed amendments will not have a direct impact on public health or the environment as they are primarily administrative in nature. The proposed amendments do not subject the affected parties, the general public or any unit of government to additional direct costs.

K.A.R. 28-18-8 and 28-18a-8. Permit; terms and conditions. The proposed amendments remove requirements having the same purpose or effect as requirements found in other sections of the existing regulations. Subsection (e) is eliminated since reporting of changes or modifications to individual farming plans is unnecessary. Agronomic use of wastes is required by other current regulations. Within the context of the regulatory impact statement the proposed amendments will not have a direct impact on public health or the environment as they are primarily administrative in nature. The proposed amendments do not subject the affected parties, the general public or any unit of government to additional direct costs. The affected parties may realize some cost savings due to the elimination of the reporting requirement. The estimated cost savings are less than $1 per facility.

K.A.R. 28-18-9 and 29-18a-9. Certification; terms and conditions. The proposed amendments address the terms and conditions to be included in each certification or permit. Modification has been made to clarify that the issuance of a permit is of itself not an enforcement action. Within the context of the regulatory impact statement the proposed amendments will not have a direct impact on public health or the environment as they are primarily administrative in nature. The proposed amendments do not subject the affected parties, the general public or any unit of government to additional direct costs.

K.A.R. 28-18-11 and 28-18a-11. Confined feeding facilities; federal requirements. The proposed amendments adopt, by reference, the recently revised Environmental Protection Agency concentrated animal feeding operation requirements that became effective nationwide April 12, 2003. The final EPA regulations, proposed to be adopted by KDHE, are revisions and updates to the previous 1974 EPA requirements that KDHE had adopted and are currently implemented. The incorporation of the revised EPA rules will enable the state to continue to manage the federal water pollution control permitting program in Kansas rather than the federal government. The primary revision to the 1974 EPA requirements address management and utilization of the manure from concentrated animal feeding operations. The new measures will provide an environmental benefit by requiring the facility operator to plan, in advance, for the agronomic use of animal wastes. Along with requiring the operator to implement, the planned management practices are designed to (1) minimize pollutant discharges from confined animal feeding facilities and (2) minimize contaminated runoff into Kansas surface waters from fields where the animal waste is utilized.

The proposed amendments will increase capital and annual operating costs for the affected parties. When revising the 1974 regulations, the EPA worked closely and with the support of the United States Department of Agriculture. The Environmental Quality Incentives Program (EQIP) of the 2002 Farm Bill substantially increased the availability of funds to all confined animal feeding facilities, regardless of size, to assist in them in complying with the revised EPA regulations. Capital and annual costs will vary considerably depending upon the size of confined feeding facility, local climate, current waste management capabilities, and availability of suitable crop, pasture and range land upon which to manage the collected wastes. Swine facilities are not expected to be impacted due to Kansas legislation created in 1998 requiring swine facilities to conduct nutrient utilization planning. KDHE estimates of the capital costs for non-swine facilities (beef, dairy, poultry, etc.) to develop site-specific, detailed plans to manage and utilize the facility wastes will range from less than $1,000 to more than $40,000 depending on the range of variables previously described. Estimates of capital costs to make any necessary improvements to the land application system to distribute the wastes range from $500 or less to several hundred thousand dollars or more, again depending on site-specific variables previously described. Estimates of the annual costs for nonswine facilities (beef, dairy, poultry, etc.) to implement their nutrient management plan range from $325 to $20,000 or more, with the cost highly dependent upon the site-specific variables previously described. The proposed amendments do not subject the general public or any unit of government to additional direct costs.

K.A.R. 28-18-12 and 28-18a-12. Design and construction of animal waste and swine waste management and swine pollution control systems. The proposed amendments will: (1) correct references to other existing regulations; (2) clarify that only those changes made after KDHE approval that affect the scope, boundaries, collection, handling, treatment, utilization or disposal of the animal waste require the facility to amend the construction plans and seek approval of the changes by the department prior to implementing the change; (3) incorporate by reference minimum design standards that have been rewritten to distinguish between requirements and guidance; and (4) allow KDHE to focus its review of post construction information to those facilities with site-specific concerns or risks. Within the context of the regulatory impact statement the proposed amendments will not have a direct impact on public health or the environment. The proposed amendments do not subject the affected parties, the general public or any unit of government to additional direct costs, although the amendments are expected to create some efficiencies for the affected parties and KDHE by clarifying when KDHE approval is needed and providing flexibility in evaluating construction activities.

K.A.R. 28-18-13 and 28-18a-19. Operation of animal waste and swine waste management and swine pollution control systems. The proposed amendments address protection of groundwater resources in sensitive groundwater areas. The amendments affect facilities with less than 1,000 animal units. Similar requirements for facilities with more than 1,000 animal units are contained in the revised EPA regulations proposed for adoption in K.A.R. 28-18-11 and 28-18a-11. It is proposed the facilities with less than 1,000 animal units, with land application areas in sensitive groundwater areas, sample and test the soil of those areas, which have been utilized for waste management, at least once every five years. These fields, in sensitive groundwater areas, present an increased probability of affecting groundwater if animal wastes are applied at rates that exceed the ability of the crop to utilize the nutrients. The proposed modifications will provide an environmental benefit. Information on soil nutrient status can be monitored to determine if sub-soil nitrogen levels are increasing. If an upward trend is noted, then it will be apparent nitrates are being leached into the deeper soil layers and possibly into the groundwater, thereby contaminating a source of drinking water. The information also can be monitored for elevated levels of phosphorus that can be eroded or carried into streams and lakes creating eutrophication of the water bodies and leading to fish kills and taste and odor problems for public water supplies. There are no projected capital costs to the affected parties for them to be able to conduct the soil sampling. The projected annualized cost for the affected facilities, those with fewer than 1,000 animal units that have applied manure to a field in a sensitive groundwater area, to collect the samples, have the samples analyzed, and to send KDHE a copy of the test results are projected to be $5 to $10 per year. The proposed amendments do not subject the general public or any unit of government to additional direct costs.

K.A.R. 28-18-14 and 28-18a-21. Inspections. The current regulations address the compliance of KDHE inspectors with the bio-security plans of those confined feeding facilities and swine facilities that implement a bio-security plan at their facility. The section has been amended to remove references to dates and deadlines that have passed. Within the context of the regulatory impact statement the proposed amendments will not have a direct impact on public health or the environment as they are primarily administrative in nature. The proposed amendments do not subject the affected parties, the general public or any unit of government to additional direct costs.

K.A.R. 28-18-16 and 28-18a-22. Animal waste-retention lagoon and swine facility closure requirements. K.A.R. 28-18-16 is newly proposed and is similar to the currently effective K.A.R. 28-18a-22 that is specific to swine. K.A.R. 28-18a-22 requires the development and implementation of a closure plan for those swine facilities with 3,725 or more animal units. The proposed new regulation and the proposed amended regulation are similar to the current regulation for large swine facilities, but the requirement to develop a closure plan, to be implemented at such time the facility ceases operation, is proposed to be extended to Equus Bed confined animal feeding facilities with 1,000 or more animal units. Bringing the closure planning requirement to the forefront for these facilities will ensure the owner is aware of requirements to manage the wastes until they have all been removed and that the contents of the closure plan have been accepted by KDHE. The requirement for facilities located in this significant groundwater resource area to plan in advance for closure and then follow through when the facility ceases operation will reduce the risk of any remaining waste to be left unmanaged and concentrated in one small area and to subsequently cause nitrate contamination of the groundwater. Capital costs to develop a closure plan for Equus Bed confined animal feeding facilities with 1,000 or more animal units are estimated to range from $480 to $3,600 per facility and no projected annual costs. The proposed amendments do not subject the general public or any unit of government to additional direct costs.

K.A.R. 28-18-17 and 28-18a-33. Groundwater protection requirements for animal waste and swine waste-retention lagoons. The proposed new regulations will establish a siting requirement related to distance to groundwater and will establish a three-tiered approach to requirements for lining waste-retention lagoons. The tiers are based on the most commonly used terms to define groundwater systems in Kansas and the relative degree of vulnerability and use of each groundwater system.

The proposed regulations will require the finished floor of each new or expanded portion of waste-retention lagoons and swine waste-retention lagoons to be a minimum of 10 feet above groundwater. Additionally, the proposed regulations require the liner of new or expanded portion of waste-retention lagoons and swine waste-retention lagoons to be designed to minimize seepage to the greatest extent practicable and established site-specific seepage rates, based upon the specific groundwater system, which are not to be exceeded.

The proposed rules will have an environmental benefit by establishing requirements to reduce the level of seepage in proportion to the vulnerability and degree of use of the groundwater resource at the location of the waste-retention lagoons or swine waste-retention lagoons. The reduced levels of seepage will reduce the quantity of ammonium (in the environment, ammonium is readily converted to nitrate) moving into the soils surrounding the waste-retention lagoons. The reduced ammonium movement will limit the potential for its conversion into nitrate and thus reduce the risk of nitrate contamination of groundwater. Nitrate at relatively low levels is toxic to unborn children and infants and at slightly higher levels can cause toxicity problems for adults. The proposed amendments could create additional direct costs for the affected parties, but government units and the general public should not incur additional direct costs. The additional direct costs to affected parties, if any, will be primarily dependent upon the availability of alternative locations (those that would meet requirements) for the facility and the willingness of the facility owner to consider alternative locations. Capital costs could range from $0 to several hundred thousand dollars depending on the site selected by the owner and availability of alternative sites. Annual costs to the affected parties, if any, are estimated to range from $0 to $120,000. Again, the cost is highly dependent on the owner's site selection and the availability of alternative sites.

K.A.R. 28-18-18 and 28-18a-34. Groundwater monitoring for confined feeding facilities and swine facilities. The proposed new regulations address required components of a groundwater monitoring plan when site conditions or statutes require the confined feeding facility or swine facility to develop and implement a groundwater monitoring plan. The requirement for the plan to address certain issues does not in and of itself provide any environmental benefit. However, implementation of a groundwater monitoring plan, when required, will create an environmental benefit by reducing groundwater pollution since a monitoring system will allow for earlier detection and correction of groundwater pollution should it occur. The affected parties will incur additional capital and annual costs if required to develop and implement a groundwater monitoring plan; however, as previously noted, the facility owner can eliminate or largely control these costs through careful selection of a site for the facility. If a facility is required to develop and install groundwater monitoring, then the capital costs are projected to range from $710 to $12,910, depending upon the number of wells and their depth. Annual costs for implementing the groundwater monitoring plan (sampling and reporting) are estimated to range from $100 to $600. The proposed regulations do not subject the general public or any unit of government to additional direct costs.

K.A.R. 28-18a-26. Requirements for swine facility operator certification. This regulation currently implements the statutory requirement for swine facilities with 1,000 or more animal units to be operated by a certified swine facility operator. The proposed amendment removes references to dates and deadlines that have passed. Within the context of the regulatory impact statement the proposed amendments will not have a direct impact on public health or the environment as they are primarily administrative in nature. The proposed amendments do not subject the affected parties, the general public or any unit of government to additional direct costs.

K.A.R. 28-18a-32. Swine waste-retention lagoons in sensitive groundwater areas. This existing regulation addresses swine waste-retention lagoon liner requirements. This regulation is proposed to be revoked. The terms defined in this existing regulation have been incorporated into K.A.R. 28-18a-1, definitions. Swine waste-retention lagoon liner requirements have been more clearly delineated in K.A.R. 28-18a-33. Within the context of the regulatory impact statement this revocation will not have a direct impact on public health or the environment. The proposed revocation does not subject the affected parties, the general public or any unit of government to additional direct costs.

The time period between publication of this notice and the date two weeks after the final public hearing serves as the required public comment period of at least 60 days for the purpose of receiving written public comments on the proposed amended, new and revoked regulations. At any time during the public comment period all interested parties may submit written comments to Claudia Elkins, Kansas Department of Health and Environment, Bureau of Water, 1000 S.W. Jackson, Suite 420, Topeka, 66612-1367. Written comments also can be e-mailed to feedlots@kdhe.state.ks.us, with the request that the subject line indicate "proposed regulations" and that any text attachments be in Word or Word Perfect and any graphic attachments be in JPEG or JPG format.

All interested parties intending to provide oral comments will be given a reasonable opportunity to present their views of the proposed amended, new and revoked regulations during each hearing. In order to give each individual or entity an opportunity to present their views, it may be necessary for the hearing officer to request that each presenter limit any of their presentation to an appropriate time frame.

Because of the expected level of public participation at the hearings, KDHE recommends that individuals intending to present oral testimony at the hearings provide the hearing officer with a written copy of their comments and recommendations during the hearing. This will ensure KDHE receives each presenter's comments and recommendations in the event presentation times are limited.

Complete copies of the proposed regulations, corresponding regulatory impact statement, "Design Standards for Confined Feeding Facilities, May 10, 2004," "Kansas Sensitive Groundwater Areas for Wastewater Lagoons, November 1, 2003" and referenced EPA regulations may be obtained on the Bureau of Water's Web site at www.kdhe.state.ks.us/feedlots or by contacting the Bureau of Water, 1000 S.W. Jackson, Suite 420, Topeka, 66612-1367, (785) 296- 6432.

Any individual with a disability may request accommodation in order to participate in the public hearing and may request the proposed regulations and regulatory impact statements in an accessible format. Requests for accommodation should be made at least five working days in advance of the hearing by contacting April Romero-Crawford at (785) 296-6432 or by fax at (785) 296-5509.

Notice of Hearing on Proposed Administrative Regulations

A public hearing will be conducted at 1:30 p.m. Tuesday, March 22, in the main conference room, Kansas Department of Commerce, Suite 100, Curtis State Office Building, 1000 S.W. Jackson, Topeka, to consider the adoption of regulations administering the Kansas Downtown Redevelopment Act.

This 60-day notice of the public hearing shall constitute a public comment period for submitting written public comments on the proposed regulations. All interested parties may submit written comments before the hearing to Howard R. Fricke, Secretary of Commerce, Curtis State Office Building, 1000 S.W. Jackson, Suite 100, Topeka, 66612-3481. All interested parties will be given a reasonable opportunity to present their views orally on these regulations during the hearing. In order to give all parties an opportunity to present their views, it may be necessary to request that each participant limit any oral presentation to five minutes.

Any individual with a disability may request accommodation in order to participate in the public hearing and may request the proposed regulations and economic impact statements in an accessible format. Requests for accommodation should be made at least 10 working days in advance of the hearing to Merrill J. Hicklin Befort at the Department of Commerce, Curtis State Office Building, 1000 S.W. Jackson, Suite 100, Topeka, 66612-3481, (785) 291-3891. Handicapped parking is not available around the Curtis Office Building; however, all persons in a vehicle with a handicapped license plate may park in any metered space around the building, and there is no charge for parking. The curbs and all entrances on Jackson, 10th Street, and Kansas Avenue to the Curtis Office Building are accessible to individuals with disabilities.

Copies of the regulations and their economic impact statements may be obtained by contacting Merrill J. Hicklin Befort at the address and phone number above. The regulations also are posted on the department's Web site at www.kansascommerce.com (the Connect Code box is found in the lower left hand corner of the home page; once there, type in the code "KEGA," click the "Go" button, and a direct link will be provided to the proposed regulations).

A summary of the proposed regulations and their economic impact follows:

K.A.R. 110-11-1. Definitions. This regulation defines key terms in the regulations.

K.A.R. 110-11-2. Application process. This regulation provides the application process for cities and counties to apply to the Kansas Department of Commerce to designate downtown redevelopment areas, wherein rebate of real property tax increments collected from real property may apply to properties that have undergone approved improvements.

K.A.R. 110-11-3. Progress reports. This regulation provides for annual progress reports to be filed by cities and counties with the Kansas Department of Commerce.

Economic Impact: It is anticipated that at least one employee of the Department of Commerce will be required to review applications for compliance with applicable rules and capture annual statistics on downtown redevelopment so that the Legislature can review the impact of this act. The costs to the department are estimated to be between $10,000 and $20,000. The department does not anticipate the need to hire additional employees.

The new regulations will have a negligible impact upon local governments, as property tax rebates will be processed by local taxing authorities based upon incrementally assessed value on property improvements made by individuals and businesses, not total assessed value. Long-term economic impacts would be positive to the local government and businesses in the community, due to an anticipated increase in property tax revenue, after the 10-year rebate is expired, as well as an anticipated increase in sales tax revenue, as new or expanded businesses are in operation in formerly vacant properties. Local governments and businesses participating in this program will have normal recordkeeping costs and expenses, as well as salaries involved in the maintenance of records. The department cannot reliably estimate the costs required of each local government or business since that involves decisions made at their level.

There would be no negative impact on other entities or persons. To the extent the program allows local governments to make decisions on establishing redevelopment areas to utilize this program, it enhances the state's downtown economic development activities and attractiveness. This would have a positive impact on state and local tax revenues.

(b) If any licensee's judgment is overruled under circumstances in which the safety, health, or welfare of the public is endangered, the licensee shall inform the employer or client of the possible consequences, and the licensee shall notify the authority who issued the building permit or otherwise has jurisdiction.

(c) The licensee shall not advertise to perform or undertake to perform any assignment involving a specific technical profession unless licensed and qualified by education and experience in that technical profession, as defined in K.S.A. 74-7003, and amendments thereto.

(d) A licensee in any technical profession shall not affix a personal signature, seal, or both to any plan or document dealing with subject matter that is outside of the licensee's field of practice as defined by K.S.A. 74-7003, and amendments thereto. - (2) the existence of any pecuniary interest of the licensee.
