106 KA-0380-01
 Statewide

The scope of services is to develop a Kansas Statewide Intelligent Transportation System (ITS) Architecture. Federal law requires all major ITS projects that are multi-jurisdictional, multi-modal or affect regional integration of ITS systems and that are federally funded be in compliance with the National ITS Architecture, which is designed to ensure regionally integrated transportation systems. In order to comply with this requirement, the National ITS Architecture is to be used as a framework to develop local implementations, i.e., regional or statewide architectures as outlined in 23 CFR 940.

Several regional ITS architectures have been developed by Metropolitan Planning Organizations (MPOs) in Kansas, including the Kansas City and Wichita MPOs. In addition, the Topeka MPO is beginning the process to develop a regional architecture. The Kansas Statewide ITS Architecture will apply to major ITS projects implemented in locations in Kansas that are not covered by MPO region and will be fully integrated with existing and planned MPO architectures and compliant with 23 CFR 940.

It is KDOT's policy to use the following criteria as the basis for selection of the consulting engineering firms:

- Size and professional qualifications;
- experience of staff;
- location of firm with respect to proposed project;

- work load of firm; and
- firm's performance record.

The project is being financed by the lender for Justin L Stallbaumer and is located at Section 34, Illinois Township, Nemaha County, Kansas, approximately 1.5 miles west of Corning on 52nd Road.

Each bond, when issued, will be a limited obligation of the K DFA and will not constitute a general obligation or indebtedness of the state of Kansas or any political subdivision thereof, including the K DFA, nor will it be an indebtedness for which the faith and credit and taxing powers of the state of Kansas are pledged. Each bond will be payable solely from amounts received from the respective borrower, the obligation of which will be sufficient to pay the principal of, interest and redemption premium, if any, on each bond when it becomes due.

Department of Health and EnvironmentNotice of Hearing on Proposed Administrative Regulations

The Kansas Department of Health and Environment, Division of Health, Bureau of Epidemiology, will conduct a public hearing at 9:30 a.m. Friday, March 31, in the Crumline Conference Room, fifth floor, Curtis State Office Building, 1000 S.W. Jackson, Topeka, to consider the adoption of proposed amendments to existing disease regulation K.A.R. 28-1-2.

K.A.R. 28-1-2 includes the list of diseases reportable by physicians. Most reportable conditions are infectious. These lists need to be updated periodically to reflect changes in diagnostic tests and in the list of national notifiable diseases maintained by the Centers for Disease Control and Prevention (CDC) and the Council of State and Territorial Epidemiologists (CSTE). When a condition is added to the list, providers and facilities that submit reports for that condition are protected from liability incurred as a result of their reporting (K.S.A. 65-118).

A summary of the proposed amendments follows:

Adding "influenza deaths in children under 18 years of age": Was changed to monitor the incidence and track the basic characteristics of pediatric influenza deaths. More information is needed to define the burden of influenza in children and develop appropriate strategies to prevent mortality associated with this vaccine-preventable disease.

During the fall of 2003, there were several widely publicized reports of influenza-associated deaths in children. These accounts generated concern that children were disproportionately affected by influenza during the current season. In December 2003, the CDC requested that states voluntarily report influenza-associated deaths in children less than 18 years of age during the 2003-04 season. During October 11, 2003 - March 22, 2004, the CDC received a total of 142 reports of pediatric fatalities associated with laboratory-confirmed influenza. Whether this represents an increase over baseline is unclear, since comparative data do not exist.

There should be little or no economic impact in years with no reports in Kansas. If a report is received in Kansas there would be epidemiological follow-up for the case involving the local facility's time and effort and the KDHE epidemiologist or local health department time.

Adding "any transmissible spongiform encephalopathy (TSE) or prion disease (indicate causative agent, if known)": Prion diseases also are referred to as transmissible spongiform encephalopathies (TSE), and they occur in humans and animals, primarily affecting the central nervous system. Unlike other known infectious diseases, it is believed to result from a change in the conformation or shape of a normal protein called cellular prion protein, which is present in large amounts in the brain as well as in other tissues. The abnormal prion can be and, under certain rare conditions that have not yet been fully determined, can transmit the disease. Currently, there are no cures for prion diseases. The average worldwide occurrence of one prion disease (Cruetzfeldt Jacob's Disease, or CJD) is approximately one case per million people per year.

In 2003, the identification of two cases of Bovine Spongiform Encephalitis ("mad cow" disease) in North America, the report of a highly probable blood borne transmission of vCJD in the UK, and the increasing spread of chronic wasting disease of deer and elk (ale prion disease that has not yet shown to infect humans) indicate the need to continue enhancing human prion disease surveillance in this country. Such surveillance is needed to monitor the occurrence of any emerging forms of human prion disease (e.g., vCJD, or possible human chronic wasting disease) as well as other prion disease related public health issues.

Reporting of this disease would likely have little economic impact at the program level due to the extremely small numbers of cases that are expected; however, the reporting of a case could have a broader impact. That economic impact in such a case, expected to be extraordinarily rare, would be difficult to estimate but can be expected to be large in Kansas. Estimated costs to the program would primarily revolve around an epidemiologist's time for follow-up.

Adding "arboviral disease, including West Nile virus, western equine encephalitis (WEE), and St. Louis encephalitis (SLE)" will change existing reporting to include the spectrum of disease rather than just the most severe manifestations of disease to determine the impact of the disease and interventions to prevent disease. Arbovirus encephalitis is reportable already. Many physicians and laboratories also report the full spectrum of West Nile virus disease, following a request by KDHE in 2004. This change would effectively change what is presently occurring to regulation to increase accurate and complete reporting.

Other changes to 28-1-2: "streptococcal invasive, drug-resistant disease from group A Streptococcus or Streptococcus pneumoniae" was changed to require only drug resistant strains be reported to follow what CDC and CSTE recommends. The public health response is focused on those cases where traditional treatment is not effective because of drug resistance. There is not a public health reason to track all cases of invasive streptococcal disease. It is expected that the change will decrease the number of cases to be reported and the follow-up required to only those in which there might be a public health benefit.

"Escherichia coli enteric infection from E. coli O157:H7 and other enterohemorrhagic, enteropathogenic, and enteroinvasive shiga toxin-producing E. coli, also known as STEC" was changed to reflect more modernly used terminology to reduce confusion among reporting entities and to improve reporting.

Economic Impact:

Cost to the Agency

The number of disease reports submitted to the Bureau of Epidemiology and Disease Prevention in the Kansas Department of Health and Environment will increase and will be incorporated into the existing staff workload. The Kansas Health and Environmental Laboratory will have to pay for the cost of additional tests on isolates sent by clinical laboratories. Most of the testing is anticipated to be requested by physicians in commercial laboratories, is already ordered, and will not be a result of these changes in the regulation. The KDHE laboratory does not test for transmissible spongiform encephalopathies (TSEs) or prion disease and does not propose to begin to do so, but testing through Case Western Reserve University would continue to be encouraged as is currently advised.

Local health departments will incur some modest additional costs when they receive a case report from a provider and they transmit it to KDHE. Most (80%) local health departments are linked to the KDHE HAWK system, an electronic disease reporting system that they can access to report these conditions to KDHE. It is estimated that each case report for both newly reported diseases will require about five minutes of clerical staff time, at an average cost of less than $2 per case. The anticipated number of new reports for Arboviral Disease addition is expected to be 200 cases, and the TSE, or prion disease addition, less than 10 total cases per year in Kansas.

Revising Streptococcal invasive disease follow-up to only those with potential public health implications would actually decrease state and local resources needed. Therefore, the total direct cost of the additional reporting requirements should be less than $500 for all parties.

Cost to persons who will bear the costs and those who will be affected (i.e., private citizens and consumers of the products or services) and are subject to the proposed rules and regulations or the enforcement:

As noted, the number of cases arising from these changes should be minimal and highly variable as to when they might occur. Not counting the human costs, the reporting-related costs would be minimal and easily absorbed within already existing reporting requirements.

Costs to other governmental agencies or units:

As noted, the number of cases arising from these changes should be minimal. Some of the changes will offset existing confusion over reporting for certain diseases thereby offsetting any new costs in the aggregate.

The time period between the publication of this notice and the scheduled hearing constitutes a 60-day public comment period for the purpose of receiving written public comments on the proposed regulatory action. All interested parties may submit written comments prior to the hearing to Sharon Wenger, Bureau of Epidemiology, Suite 210, Curtis Building, 1000 S.W. Jackson, Topeka, 66612. Comments also may be e-mailed to Sharon Wenger at swenger@kdhe.state.ks.us. All interested parties will be given a reasonable opportunity to present their views orally on the proposed regulatory action during the hearings. In order to give all parties an opportunity to present their views, it may be necessary to require each participant to limit any oral presentation to five minutes.

Copies of the proposed amendments and the economic impact statement may be obtained from the KDHE Bureau of Epidemiology by calling (785) 296-7032 and also are available on the bureau's Web site at www.kdheks.gov/bedp/index.html. Questions pertaining to these proposed amendments should be directed to Sharon Wenger, (785) 296-7032.

Any individual with a disability may request accommodation in order to participate in the public hearing and may request the proposed amendments and the economic impact and environmental benefit statements in an accessible format. Requests for accommodation should be made at least five working days in advance of the hearing by contacting Sharon Wenger.

The bonds will bear interest at rates to be determined when the bonds are sold as hereinafter provided, which interest will be payable semiannually on March 1 and September 1 in each year, beginning March 1, 2007.

Place of Payment and Bond Registration

The principal of and interest on the bonds will be payable in lawful money of the United States by check or draft of the Kansas State Treasurer, Topeka, Kansas (the paying agent and bond registrar). The principal of the bonds will be payable at maturity or upon earlier redemption to the registered owners upon presentation and surrender of the bonds at the office of the paying agent.

The issuer will pay for the fees of the bond registrar for registration and transfer of the bonds and also will pay for printing a reasonable supply of registered bond blanks. Any additional costs or fees that might be incurred in the secondary market, or otherwise, will be the responsibility of the bondholders.

Book-Entry Bonds; Securities Depository

The bonds shall initially be registered to Cede & Co., the nominee for the Securities Depository, and no beneficial owner will receive certificates representing their respective interests in the bonds, except in the event the bond registrar issues replacement bonds.

Redemption of Bonds Prior to Maturity

At the option of the issuer, bonds maturing on September 1, 2016, and thereafter will be subject to redemption and payment prior to maturity on September 1, 2015, and thereafter in whole at any time, or in part on any interest payment date (bonds of less than a single maturity to be selected by lot in multiples of $5,000 principal amount by the paying agent and bond registrar in such equitable manner as it shall designate), at the principal amount thereof, plus accrued interest to the redemption date, without premium.

Conditions of Bids and Bidders

Bids will be received on the bonds bearing such rate or rates of interest as may be specified by the bidders, subject to the following conditions: The same rate shall apply to all bonds of the same maturity. Each interest rate specified shall be multiple of 1/8 or 1/20 of 1 percent. No interest rate shall exceed the index of 10-year treasury bonds published by The Bond Buyer in New York, New York, on the Monday next preceding the day on which the bonds are sold, plus 3 percent. The difference between the highest rate specified and the lowest rate specified shall not exceed 2 percent. No supplemental interest payments will be authorized. No bid of less than the entire principal amount of the bonds and accrued interest will be considered. Each bid shall specify the total interest cost to the issuer during the life of the bond issue on the basis of such bid, the premium, if any, offered by the bidder, and the net interest cost to the issuer on the basis of such bid. Each bid also shall specify the average annual net interest rate to the issuer on the basis of such bid. Bidders may be required to be qualified in a manner established by the issuer before submitting a bid.

Basis of Award

The award of the bonds will be made on the basis of the lowest net interest cost to the issuer, which will be determined by subtracting the amount of the premium bid, if any, from the total interest cost. If there is any discrepancy between the net interest cost and the average annual net interest rate specified, the bid shall be adjusted to reflect the lowest net interest cost to the issuer. If two or more proper bids providing for identical amounts for the lowest net interest cost are received, the issuer shall determine which bid, if any, shall be accepted, and its determination shall be final.

Authorization, Purpose and Security for the Bonds

The bonds are being authorized and issued to permanently finance the costs to construct additional classrooms and facilities, and otherwise improve the district's facilities and sites, all under the authority of K.S.A. 72-6761, K.S.A. 75-2315 et seq., and Article 1 of Chapter 10 of the Kansas Statutes Annotated, all as amended and supplemented.

The bonds will be general obligations of the issuer payable as to both principal and interest from ad valorem taxes that may be levied without limitation as to rate or amount on all the taxable tangible property, real and personal, within the territorial limits of the issuer.

Tax Status of Interest on the Bonds

The Internal Revenue Code of 1986, as amended, imposes requirements on the issuer that must be met subsequent to the issuance of the bonds by the issuer and, as a result, the issuer will and does hereby covenant that it will diligently undertake those steps necessary to maintain the excludability of the interest on the bonds from gross income for federal tax purposes. Under present law, interest on the bonds also is excluded from the computation of Kansas adjusted gross income for individuals.

The issuer does not intend to designate the bonds as "qualified tax-exempt obligations" under Section 265 of the code.

Legal Opinion

The bonds will be sold subject to the legal opinion of Robert J. Perry, Esq., Auburn, Kansas, bond counsel, whose approving legal opinion as to the validity of the bonds will be furnished and paid for by the issuer, printed on the bonds and delivered to the successful bidder when the bonds are delivered. Said opinion also will state that in the opinion of bond counsel, assuming continued compliance by the issuer with the provisions of the covenants authorizing the issuance of the bonds and the code, under existing law, the interest on the bonds is excluded from federal and state income taxation.

Delivery and Payment

The issuer will pay for printing the bonds and will deliver the bonds, without cost to the successful bidder, properly prepared, executed and registered, on or about February 23, 2006, through the facilities of the Depository Trust Company, New York, New York. Said bidder also will be furnished with a certified transcript of the proceedings evidencing the authorization and issuance of the bonds and the usual closing documents, including a certificate that there is no litigation pending or threatened at the time of delivery of the bonds affecting their validity and a certificate regarding the completeness and accuracy of the official statement. Payment for the bonds shall be made in Federal Reserve funds, immediately subject to use by the issuer.

Good Faith Deposit

Each bidder shall, at or prior to the time of the sale, provide a surety bond or a cashier's or certified check drawn on a bank located in the United States in the amount equal to 2 percent of the par value of the bonds payable to the order of the issuer to secure the issuer from any loss resulting from the failure of the bidder to comply with the terms of its bid. No interest will be paid upon the deposit made by the successful bidder. Said check shall be returned to the bidder if its bid is not accepted. If a bid is accepted, said deposit shall be held by the issuer until the bidder shall have complied with all of the terms and conditions of this notice and its bid, at which time said deposit shall be returned to the successful bidder or deducted from the purchase price of the bonds, all at the option of the issuer. If a bid is accepted but the issuer shall fail to deliver the bonds to the bidder in accordance with the terms and conditions of this notice, said deposit shall be returned to the bidder and the issuer shall have no other obligation or liability to the bidder. If a bid is accepted but the bidder shall default in the performance of any of the terms and conditions of this notice or its bid, the proceeds of such check or the surety bond shall be forfeited to the issuer, with the issuer reserving the right to pursue any consequential damages arising from such default.

Bid Forms

All bids must be made on forms that may be procured from the clerk of the issuer. No additions or alterations to such forms shall be made, and any erasures may cause rejection of any bid. The issuer reserves the right to waive any irregularities and to reject any or all bids.

Submission of Bids

Bids may be submitted in sealed envelopes or by telefacsimile at (785) 379-5810, addressed to the undersigned clerk, 4401 S.E.
